MESSAGE

I am glad to know that the Central Vigilance Commission is observing Vigilance Awareness Week from November 6-10, 2006.

Integrity of administration and honesty of the officials manning it are indispensable factors for ensuring good governance. The extent to which we can make our administrative machinery effective and responsive to the people depends on the sincerity and probity of the bureaucracy. Honesty and integrity need to be restored to revitalize administration and make it people friendly. I compliment the Central Vigilance Commission for taking important measures in this direction and it is hoped that observance of the Vigilance Awareness Week will sensitize people to the fight against corruption. Apart from punishing errant officials, Government should also devise means to identify, encourage and reward honest and hard working officials.

I wish all those associated with the Central Vigilance Commission for the success of the Vigilance Awareness Week.

MESSAGE

Central Vigilance Commission has been observing Vigilance Awareness Week every year to sensitize the people about the evil consequences of corruption and to educate them about the system improvement and other measures taken by different organizations to check corruption. I am happy to know that this year the Vigilance Awareness Week is being observed from 6th November to 10th November 2006.

Please accept my greetings and good wishes on this occasion.
